

ALTIUS Gets It RIGHT!

ALTIUS Healthcare Consulting Group is committed to the operational and financial success of our clients. Understanding the importance of having the RIGHT person, in the RIGHT place, performing the RIGHT task, to result in the RIGHT high-quality outcome is a crucial part of what makes our services singular.

Healthcare is one of the most dynamic industries, however, when taking a closer look into the day-to-day operations of any hospital or health system you may be surprised to find:

- Processes in place that have not evolved to meet current changes
- Waste stemming from a duplication of efforts across staff members and/or departments
- A lack of automation resulting in manual and/or paper systems that are less reliable
- An antiquated or stale approach to leadership development
- An absence of data and/or tools to support decision-making, leading to the same underwhelming results in performance

Workforce redesign, process improvement, and cross-training are necessary strategies to overcoming the existing shortages, growing salary costs, and a more competitive marketplace. ALTIUS partners with each facility's management team to determine the RIGHT compliment of staff with the RIGHT skill mix to best meet the volume demands of each service area. Our team reviews all facets of operations at both the global and department levels to develop customized strategies that drive the RIGHT outcomes.

Hospitals and health systems can no longer remain stagnant; they need to become comfortable with being uncomfortable and embrace the need for change. Now, more than ever, is the time to commit to productivity improvement and workforce optimization to ensure the lasting viability of your organization. Let ALTIUS help you get it RIGHT!
